Fairfield City offices reopen Monday

Fairfield, California (Friday, May 15, 2020) – The City of Fairfield will reopen to the public on Monday, May 18, with several operational modifications and guidelines in place to continue to combat the spread of the coronavirus. The City will resume its usual operating hours – 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and employees who are currently telecommuting will return to the workplace gradually over the next several weeks.

In the City Hall lobby, visitors will be asked to check in at the Welcome Desk on the first floor. Masks are required and if visitors do not have a mask, one will be provided, as masks must be worn to use elevators. Staff at the desk will call ahead to the visitor's intended destination to ensure there is adequate waiting room space in the destination floor's lobby. In waiting areas, floor markers have been placed to designate six feet of physical distancing, and plexiglass shields have been installed at some open counters throughout City offices.

City Manager Stefan Chatwin stated, "We look forward to welcoming our residents, businesses, and employees back into City facilities. We are reopening with public safety in mind for our visitors and employees, as we follow the mandatory protocols from the Solano County Public Health Officer. We are anxious to fully support our local businesses on their road to recovery, and residents as they adjust to our new operations."
